

You can join our Surrey Network

What is the Surrey Positive Behaviour Support Network?

Our vision is that everyone involved with people whose behaviour may challenge others will:

- Work together and value each other's opinions.
- Learn from each other.
- Make support effective by learning from research, and getting the right training to the right people.
- Support each other, particularly when things get difficult.

The individuals and their family carers, support providers, professionals, and the wider community all need to be involved.

We need to make sure in Surrey we have:

- Enough specialist services to support people who might otherwise have to look out of Surrey for support.
- Support services for people with a learning disability or autism to understand and use Positive Behaviour Support.
- Better understanding of Positive Behaviour Support in general services, and the wider community.

We will have regular meetings and seminars to raise skills and understanding.

See pages 2 and 3 for information about how to join our network.

Learning from research

Sharing best practice

Training seminars

We need whole system change.

We aim to do this by bringing together a core network of expertise, including experts by experience, and a wider group of interested people and organisations, looking to develop their knowledge.

We share information on best practice informed by research. We also share information about where to get training and support.
